For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

A REFLECTION.

I've seen, in autumn's deepest gloom,
Beneath the fading poplar shade,
The lovely field-flower spring and bloom
The lonely beauty of the glade.

But winter's cold and chilling blast,
Soon wanton'd o'er the naked field;
It nipt the flowret as it past,
And bade the beauteous blossom yield.

So soft, by virtue fair refin'd,
I've known the meek and lowly heart,
The noble, pure and holy mind,
Shrink from affliction's wintry smart.

It saw no human power to save,
Tho' long it struggled 'mid the gloom;
Till overwhelm'd in sorrow's wave,
Its only refuge was the tomb.

LOVE.

It is not while beauty and youth are thine own,
And thy cheeks unprofan'd by a tear,
That the fervor and faith of a soul can be known, [dear.
To which time will but make thee more
Oh! the heart that has truly lov'd, never forgets,
But as truly loves on to the close,
As the sun-flower turns on her god, when he sets, [he rose.
The same look which she turn'd when

DRUNKENNESS.

Oh! that men should put an enemy into their mouths, to steal away their brains.
Shakespeare.

All the crimes on earth do not destroy so many of the human race, nor alienate so much property, as Drunkenness.
Bacon.

If you wish to be always thirsty, be a drunkard, for the oftener and more you drink, the oftener and more thirsty you will be.

If you seek to prevent your friends raising you in the world, be a drunkard, for that will defeat all their efforts.

If you would effectually counteract your own attempts to do well, be a drunkard, and you will not be disappointed.

If you wish to repel the endeavours of the whole human race to raise you to character, credit, and prosperity, be a drunkard, and you will most assurdly triumph.

If you are determined to be poor, be a drunkard, and you will soon be ragged and pennyless.

If you wish to starve your family, be a drunkard, for that will consume the means of their support.

If you would be spunged on by knaves, be a drunkard, and that will make their task easy.

If you wish to be robbed, be a drunkard, which will enable the thief to do it with more safety.

If you wish to blunt your senses, be a drunkard, and you will be more stupid than an ass.

If you would become a fool, be a drunkard, and you will soon lose your understanding.

If you wish to incapacitate yourself for rational intercourse, be a drunkard, for that will render you unfit for it.

If you wish all your prospects in life to be clouded, be a drunkard, and they will soon be dark enough.

If you would destroy your body, be a drunkard, as drunkenness is the mother of disease.

If you mean to ruin your soul, be a drunkard, that you may be excluded from Heaven.

If you are resolved on suicide, be a drunkard, that being a sure mode of destruction.

If you would expose both your folly and your secrets, be a drunkard, and they will run out, while liquor runs in.

If you are plagued with great bodily strength, be a drunkard, and it will soon be subdued by so powerful an antagonist.

If you would get rid of your money without knowing how, be a drunkard and it will vanish insensibly.

If you would have no resource when past labour, but a work house, be a drunkard, and you will be unable to provide any.

If you are determined to expel all domestic harmony from your house, be a drunkard, and discord, with all her evil train, will soon enter.

If you would be always under strong suspicions, be a drunkard, for, little as you think it, all agree that those who steal from themselves and families will rob others.

If you would be reduced to the necessity of shunning your creditors, be a drunkard, and you will soon have reason to prefer the bye paths to the public streets.

If you like the amusements of a court of conscience, be a drunkard, and you may be often gratified.

If you would be a dead weight on the community, and, "cumber the ground," be a drunkard, for that will render you useless, helpless, burthensome and expensive.

If you would be a nuisance, be a drunkard, for the approach of a drunkard is like that of a dunghill.

If you would be odious to your family and friends, be a drunkard, and you will soon be more than disagreeable.

If you would be a pest to society, be a drunkard, and you will be avoided as infectious.

If you dread reformation of your faults, be a drunkard, and you will be impervious to all admonition.

If you smash windows, break the peace, get your bones broken, tumble under carts and horses, and be locked up in watch-houses, be a drunkard, and it will be strange if you do not succeed.

Finally if you are determined to be utterly destroyed, intestate, body, and soul, be a drunkard, and you will soon know that it is impossible to adopt a more effectual means to accomplish your—END.

Drunkenness expels Reason—defaces Beauty—drowns the Memory—diminishes strength—inflames the blood—causes internal, external, and incurable wounds—it is a witch to the senses, a devil to the soul, a thief to the purse, the beggar's companion, a wife's woe, and children's sorrow—makes a strong man weak, and a wise man a fool. He is worse than a beast, and is a self murderer, who drinks to other's good health, and robs himself of his own.

Fly drunkenness, whose vile continuance
Takes both away the reason and the sense,
Till with Circean cups thy mind possest,
Leaves to be men, and wholly turns a beast.
Think, whilst thou swallowest the capacious bowl,
Thou let'st in seas to wreck and drown the soul
—Quite leave this vice and turn not to't again,
Upon presumption of a stronger brain;
For he that holds more wine than others can,
I rather count a hogshead than a man.
RANDOLPH.

EMIGRATION ANECDOTE.

The following little narrative savors so strongly of the romantic, that we should hesitate in believing it, had we not been told it by a gentleman who witnessed part of the transaction. [Raleigh Register.

A person who had a considerable fortune in Philadelphia, as a butcher, went on board one of the last ships from Amsterdam, which had a number of German redemptioners, for the purpose of purchasing one to assist him in his business. After examining the physiognomy of several of the passengers, without being able to please himself, his attention was arrested by the tranquil and composed countenance of a man rather advanced in years, but with much appearance of strength and activity. No less pleased with the conversation of the German, than with his exterior, he described the purpose for which he wanted a servant, and obtained the man's consent to purchase his indentures, provided he would also purchase those of his wife, who had accompanied him. The parties went ashore to complete the business, attended by the captain, and upon the names of the persons being mentioned, to insert them in the writings, they were the same with those of the purchaser's father and mother—and, upon further enquiry, he ascertained them to be, in fact, his father and mother, the latter declaring that if he was their son, he had a remarkable mole on his left arm—which proved to be the case! It is added, that nothing could surpass the joy of all parties. The Providence of God had snatched the venerable pair from poverty and servitude, and conducted them to plenty and independence, under the protection of an affectionate son. He, it seems, had run away from his parents, when quite a boy, and from the continued wars in Europe, neither had ever heard of the other since.

ALEXANDRIA:
MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1817.

VISIT OF THE PRESIDENT.

The President of the United States passed through this town, on Saturday last, on a visit to Fort Washington. He was met at the Washington Bridge, by Capt. Thornton's troop of cavalry, under the command of Lieut. Simms, and the staff officers of the Alexandria brigade of militia. On his arrival within the lines of the corporation, a salute was fired from Captain Griffith's company of artillery, which was continued until the President reached his quarters at the City Hotel. Here his honor the mayor welcomed his arrival in a short but interesting address, to which the President made an extemporaneous reply. After a slight refreshment, the procession repaired to Irwin's wharf, from whence his excellency proceeded to the Fort, in an elegant barge, accompanied by Gens. Porter and Swift, and several other officers of distinction.

We could not help remarking the gratification apparent in the countenances of our citizens, at this visit from our highly respected chief magistrate. And altho' no pompous parade was made—no gaudy decorations exhibited—or no fatiguing ceremony of compliments introduced on the occasion—yet we are warranted in saying, that the modest and heartfelt reception afforded by the inhabitants, was as truly gratifying to his excellency as the fulsome incense of adulation so often waited to his ears during his late journey.

Washington, Nov. 28.

The minister of his Catholic Majesty (the Chevalier De Onis) arrived at the seat of government yesterday.

The members of the national legislature are rapidly assembling at the seat of government, and, from the numbers already arrived, there is no doubt but a quorum of both houses will convene on Monday. [Nat. Int.

A letter of which the following is a copy, has been received from Bordeaux by the editors of the Mercantile Advertiser, accompanied by a request that it may obtain a place in the papers of the different seaports throughout the United States, as an useful article of commercial information:

"Caution to merchants and masters of vessels."

"The undersigned, ship brokers at Bordeaux, deem it necessary to caution all merchants and masters of vessels trading to Bordeaux against prohibited goods, and manufactured tobacco in particular, which of late are frequently secreted by passengers and seamen, and cause very serious difficulties on arrival; as vessels are answerable to the custom house for all that is found on board, and are thereby exposed to seizure, and at best have to sustain heavy fines after using the utmost solicitation to escape the rigor of the law, which is the confiscation of the vessel."

GREENE OYER AND TERMINER.

On thursday last, at the Circuit Court and Court of Oyer and Terminer, held by his honor Mr. Justice Van Ness, in Catskill, Jonathan Sickler, charged by Thomas B. Lent, an accomplice, with the murder of Sally Hamilton, at Athens, on the 25th of August, 1813, received his trial and was acquitted. Since the confession of Lent, last spring, much interest has been manifested by the public in relation to the approaching trial. Many were induced to believe, from the statements of Lent, and from the exactness with which many circumstances related by him corresponded with those that actually occurred at the time of the supposed murder, that Sickler could not escape conviction. On the trial, however, the examination of Lent was so replete with contradictions, absurdities and impossibilities, and so feebly supported by corroborating testimony, as to place the innocence of the prisoner, as to the crime for which he had been indicted, almost beyond a doubt. Partaking, in a good degree, of the general interest in regard to this trial, the editor attended the Circuit for the purpose of furnishing the public with a full report of it. The mass of testimony which was adduced, will prevent our giving it in full; but we shall prepare a history of the trial from our notes, which we believe will be satisfactory. The examination of Lent alone lasted a few minutes over five hours, and the trial continued from 9 o'clock, A. M. till 12 at night. Counsel for the prosecution, Moses I. Cantine, district attorney, assisted by the attorney general.—For the prisoner, Messrs. Williams and Sudam.

On Friday Sickler was discharged from prison, and Lent ordered to stand committed for perjury.

Extract of a letter of recent date, from a young Bostonian now in Valencia, (Spain) to the editors of the Boston Patriot.

"A few days since, I saw advertised in the play-bills, in the streets, in large letters, 'WASHINGTON.' I did not dream that the name of Washington was known here, and I thought it could not possibly relate to the great man, of whom our country is so justly proud—However, to my surprise, I found the comedy truly American. The character of Washington is placed in the most favorable light for virtue, patriotism and honor. The plot is taken from the circumstance of the gens. threatning retaliation on his British prisoners, which deterred the British commander from inflicting death on a number of American officers, prisoners of war. The play was well written, and excellently performed. During the performance, an illumination scene took place, and in the most conspicuous part of the stage appeared in large transparent letters, "VIVE WASHINGTON!" The act ended in a beautiful dance, the dancers building a temple of laurel wreaths over Washington. I have never seen any thing half so complimentary to the gens. memory on our stage. An interesting and novel part is introduced in the comedy, to relieve the more serious. It is a little extraordinary, that the actor who personated the general was about 50, of a tall, commanding appearance, and if he had personally known Washington, he could not have copied him better.—That stern and inflexible manner which was natural to him in the camp, but which gave way to the softest feelings of humanity when his duty did not interfere, were admirably portrayed, The play was repeated three nights."

FROM INDIA.

The ship Oscar, capt. Hart, arrived here on Saturday last in 117 days from Calcutta. We have been favored by Mr. Topliffe with Calcutta papers to the 16th July, and have made the following extracts:—

Calcutta, July 16.

It appears that a bill for opening a direct trade between the British possessions in India, and the island of Malta, passed the house of commons on the 26th Feb. Considerable benefit is expected to accrue to the trade of this country from this bill, which will enable the British merchant to introduce his goods into the Continent without subjecting him to the expense and delay occasioned by former laws, which required the produce of this country to be landed in England.—Some difficulties however will occur, in entering this new channel of commerce, from the want of established houses on the island, the consequent uncertainty of return. If, however, there is nothing in the local laws and regulations of this country to prevent the re-exportation to the eastward, of articles imported from Malta, there will be a chance of turning the trade to good account, inasmuch as the merchant can calculate on making double voyages.

Our letters from Cuttack state, that little or no progress had been made in raising the Cuttack legion. The people are unwilling to enlist during the present disturbances, lest they should be led to subdue their countrymen in arms.

The Jaypoor Ukhbars of the 25th June state, that Hundee Tewary, a Jaypoor chief, who occupies the fort of Ramghur, had an engagement with the Thanadar of Canooree, in which a considerable number of men were killed on both sides.—The Thanadar succeeded in plundering several villages belonging to the Jagheer. The fort of Khosal Ghur had been invested by Kissen Narayn, and several skirmishes had taken place between his troops and those of Narayn Doss, who commands the place. Ameer Khan continues to beseige Madaharajpore; he had been joined by Fazool Khan, with some troops.

By the accounts from Holkar's camp to the 7th May, it appears that about 1500 refractory horsemen, under the command of Ghaffoor Khan, were encamped within a few Koss of Mohaulpoor. They had fixed upon 27,000 repees as the tribute to be paid by that village: and had received 10,000 in part payment.

Runjeet Singh was at Adneeragore on the 24th of April. He had ordered boats to be got ready, as he intended to proceed to Lahore by water. Moultan Ukhbars state that a body of Runjeet Singh's troops had been attacked by a gang of robbers, and had lost several men, and a good deal of equipage. The marauders issued from the fort of Ramghur, belonging to the Nuwab of Moulton—Bhowany Doss, enraged at the occurrence, had determined to wrest the place from its present possessor; and the vakeel of Nuwab, Sadik Khan had promised to send the usual tribute regularly to Lahore, provided it was made over to his master.

FURTHER FROM INDIA.

The ship Palladium, arrived at Salem from Calcutta, touched at the island of Ascension on the 11th of Oct. Captain White has politely favored us with a perusal of his journal containing an interesting account of his visit on shore and a particular description of the island, but we have only room in this days' paper for the following extracts:

"We were boarded by a boat from the shore, in which was lieut. Harvey, of the British navy, second in command on the island. Went on shore with him, and visited the fort and other parts of the establishment. The settlement is on the W. side of the road, and contains five or six buildings. The area on which this little colony is settled is about 300 yards square, and has been cleared of cinders and levelled by the garrison since the island was taken possession of. They have 10 guns mounted in the fort, and 5 or 6 a little below to the eastward. The garrison consist of the governor, lieut. governor, seven other officers, and 40 seamen, boys and marines, A sloop of war stationed there had gone to the island of Tristan d'Ancunha, to transport to Ascension the stores, building materials, etc. from that settlement, which we were told the colony was about abandoning. They generously furnished capt. W. with water from a very scanty supply they had on hand.

ST. HELENA.—The gentlemen of the garrison expressed considerable anxiety respecting the fate of St. Helena; their alarm was grounded on the following circumstances:—On the 27th Sept. the Ocean, London, and Alexander, transports from the Isle-of-France for England, with part of the 12th regiment, touched at Ascension, having on the Saturday previous, (19th) sailed from St. Helena' On Sunday, the 20th, being 70 miles NW. from the island they were greatly alarmed by several violent shocks of earthquakes, which were repeated at short intervals for several minutes, threw them out of their beds, and caused great commotion. Four days afterwards (24th) the Gen. Graham, English ship, endeavored to make the island, but did not find it. We were told they had excellent chronometers on board, and had taken several sets of lunar observations. Their relation of these circumstances reminded us of the similarity of our situation to that of the Gen. Graham, which otherwise probably would hardly have been thought of again. Sunday, 5th Oct. we observed in the parallel of the S. part of the island of St. Helena, at that time, by the means of recent lunar observations, our run from the Cape-of-Good-Hope with a fair wind, and our chronometers, we were 15 leagues to the eastward of the island.—We ran from that point till 6 o'clock, W. northerly 15 leagues; we were then in the lat. of Jamestown, (the port) and not seeing the island, bore up for Ascension, which we made precisely where we should by our computation. However, it is very common when in the Tropics, to have a thick haze, which often obscures the land to such a degree that it cannot be seen till quite near. This may have been the case with St. Helena.

☞ Since the above was in type, we learn that capt. Hart, of the Oscar, passed St. Helena on the 9th Oct. and was two days in sight of the island. It must, therefore, as before conjectured, have been enveloped in fog when the General Graham and Palladium were in search of it.

MARKETS AT ROTTERDAM.

We are indebted for the following letter (received by the brig Janus, fr. Rotterdam) to a commercial house of the first respectability in this city.

Rotterdam, Sept. 30, 1817.

Flattering ourselves a continuance of our informations will prove acceptable, we hand you again our Price Current, and beg leave to express our wish, that our former advices may have encouraged you, to try a shipment this way of such articles, as we then pointed out, & which we trust would turn out much to your satisfaction and advantage.

Ashes in consequence of pretty heavy importations, have experienced some decline; the demand however at this moment is steady, and the season of getting supplies from the Baltic being now over, we have no doubt that prices will be supported.

Cocoas remain dull, and of a heavy sale.

The business done in coffee between May and July last was very extensive, and it was natural to expect, that the arrivals of the immense quantity sent to Germany would cause a stagnation there; this has actually been the case, and we were without any orders for upwards of six weeks; the demand at present is again more animated, and we anticipate a considerable briskness still before the close of our Rhine navigation; the rate of this produce in the spring will depend upon various circumstances, which it is as yet impossible to foresee; prices however are now so high, that a further rise is by no means probable.

The arrivals of cotton continue limited and almost exclusively of inferior qualities, which still remain without active demand: prime uplands are very scarce, and would in any quantity sell at our highest quotations; we expect even a further improvement before winter, after which period the fate of our markets will be regulated by the importations of our new crop.

The demand for South America hides has been limited, in consequence of which a good stock remains on hand, and there is little appearance of any improvement.

Pepper has considerably revived, and as the wants in Germany appear to be much greater than was supposed, the prices, which are now already 20 per cent our last quotations, may experience further augmentation.

Quercitron Bark is again lower, and a large quantity still on hand.

Rice has very much fluctuated since the last two or three months, having been frequently influenced by the weather, the state of which has however been very favorable to the harvest, and our crops in general have turned out extremely plentiful; there is in consequence no doubt but rice will be much lower in the spring, especially if the importations of the next crop are any ways extensive.

Sugars are very steady, to which the other markets in England have however in no small degree contributed, this circumstance preventing our getting supplies from that quarter; prices are not expected to experience any considerable alteration.

Maryland tobacco continues scarce and in demand; of about 700 hogsheads lately arrived, 350 have been sold at 10 5-8 st. The quality of them was inferior; of Virginia & Kentucky's we have about 3000 hds. in one of the last crop, which are selling at declining prices: Virginia's at from 8 to 9 1-2 st. Kentucky's at 7 3-4 to 8 1-2 st.

Teas are dull; we are assured that as soon as the licences, which were granted for importation will have expired, our government will adopt different regulations about this trade, which we have no doubt will become free, subject to the established duty of 10 per cent ad valorem.

Dye woods continue of a very ready sale.

For further particulars we beg leave to refer to our quotations.

Very respectfully, your obedient servants, MESS. BOER & MOENS.

Price Current at Rotterdam, Sept 30.

Pea-cock, sloop of war, Erie do. do. and a U. S's. brig and schr. names unknown. The officers and crews of the squadron were all in good health, and were to come out of quarantine in 2 or 3 days, when capt. M. understood the frigate Constellation would sail for the U. S.—On her out-ward bound passage, Sept. 10th, in lat. 36, lon. (of Corvo,) 31, capt. Marckley discovered breakers; hoisted out the boat to ascertain the cause, and found they were occasioned by a brig, bottom up, with her foremast standing: owing to the heavy sea breaking over her, could not get sufficiently near with safety, to ascertain her name, or where she belong-ed. On Sunday evening, 23d Nov. at sunset, Cape Henry bearing W. S. W. dis-tant about five leagues, passed the Franklin, 74, under topsail, steering a-bout E. blowing fresh. Arrived revenue cutter, Dallas, capt. Smith, from a cruize. The cutter has brought in the Spanish schr. Tantella, with 187 slaves. The Tantella was bound for Havanna, and was captured by the Patriot privateer Brutus, and ordered into Amelia. The Saranac on discover-ing the Tantella sent her boat with an officer to board. Austin, the prize-mas-ter of the schr. would not suffer the board-ing officer to come on board, and fired into the boat a volley of musketry, but did no damage. The Saranac perceiv-ing this, immediately opened a broad-side on the schr. cut away her boom, and disabled her much. The schooner, how-ever, made her escape and got into Amelia. Captain Elkton demanded the Tantella which was refused—Captain E. then blockaded the port of Amelia, suffering nothing to pass, which indured Aury to give the schr up, after taking 17 slaves and plundering her of many valu-able articles. The Saranac then ordered the Tantella for this port for adjudica-tion, under convoy of the cutter Dallas.

Lawnville for Sale.

THE subscriber will sell at public sale, on the premises, on the 10th of December next, the above TRACT of LAND, containing between five and six hundred acres, lying in the county of Prince William, Virginia. This desirable farm is situate within four miles of the two large western turnpike roads, leading from Washington and Alexandria; from whence it is distant thirty miles.

The highly improved state of this farm, its contiguity to market, salubrity of air, agreeable and genteel society, render it one of the most desirable pieces of property ever offered for sale in this part of the country. There is on this farm every convenience: an excellent barn, good stables, an orchard of peach and apple trees, not equalled by any in its vicinity, and as well if not better watered than any of the neighboring farms. One third of the purchase money will be required down, the balance in two equal annual instalments with interest. Negroes will be equally acceptable as cash. Ned is well made, high forehead and large flat nose: had on when he went away a grey coat and pantaloons, but as he was well provided with cloathing of various kinds, it is probable he may have changed his dress. It is believed he went off with his wife, who it appears left Richmond at the same time: she is very black, and, I believe, somewhat pitted with the small pox, talks a great deal, of short stature, and rather thick made. Ned is very artful, and may probably attempt to pass for a free man; he has a down look when spoken to. John Jackson & Co.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 45, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restarative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILL

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
